Republicans Plan Maritime Probe

Will Demand Extension of Marine Committee's Investigation Power

Washington, Dec. 26.—House Republicans laid the groundwork today for a full-dress investigation of the billion-dollar business of the United States Maritime Commission.

Party members disclosed that one of the first things they will demand when the new Congress convenes January 3 is that the House Merchant Marine Committee be given authority to extend its probe of maritime activities. While the committee has been inquiring into commission operations for many months, "some things haven't even been scratched," said Rep. Weichel (R.-Ohio), a committee member.

The Ohioan told a reporter he is not satisfied with progress of the investigation to date and contended that some of the facts have been "suppressed."

Jap Quake Toll Is Increased 400

Army Says 1,108 Dead; 2,542 Injured

Tokyo, Dec. 26 (AP)—The U. S. Army today revised the casualty toll in Japan's earthquake and tidal wave disaster to 3,650—400 more than previously reported.

The army's totals were 1,108 killed and 2,542 injured. They surpassed for the first time the Japanese Home Ministry's figures, which were 1,289 killed, 182 missing and 1,800 injured.

The U. S. Fifth Air Force said

Saturday's tidal wave, first reported at 7 to 10 feet high, actually swept the Wakayama peninsula and Shikoku coasts at heights of 25 to 27 feet.

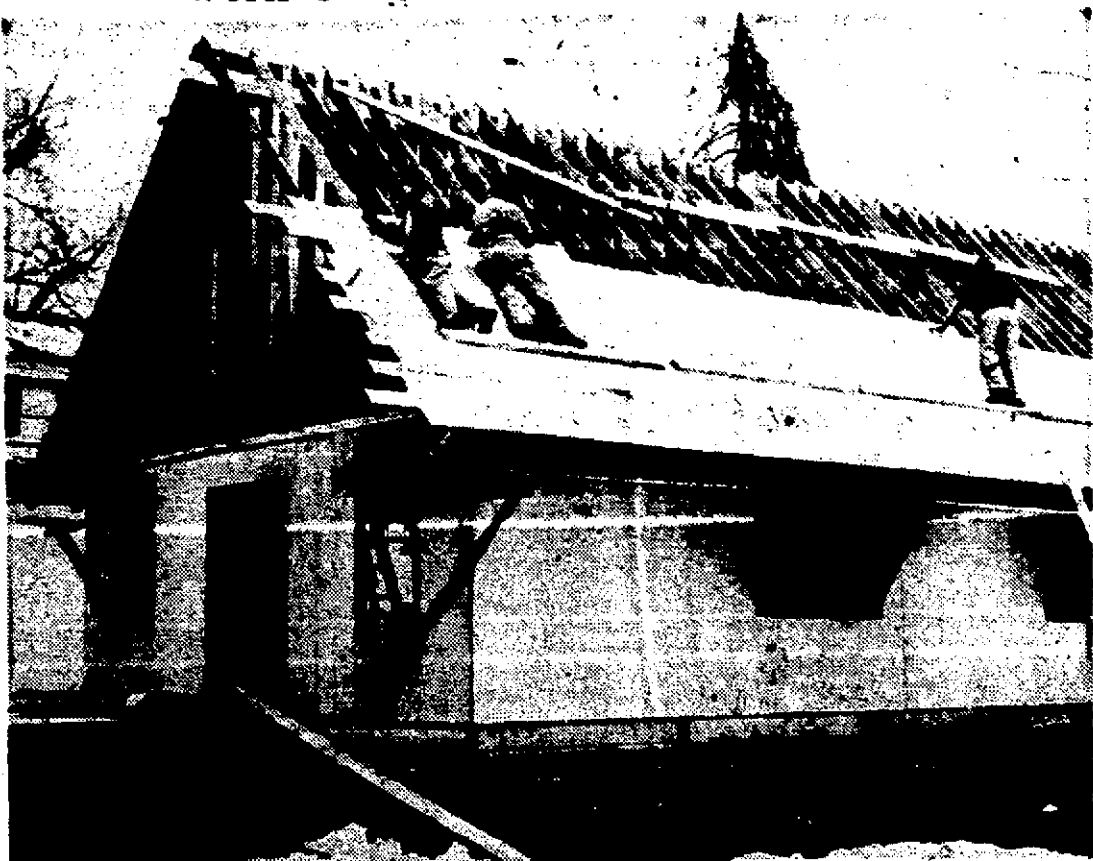

Col. Crawford Sams of General MacArthur's public health and welfare section revised upward his report on the number of homes destroyed to 18,282 and those damaged downward to 33,500.

U. S. and British planes and a British destroyer carried supplies to the shivering, bedraggled homeless tens of thousands on Shikoku.

The first important sugar plantation in the Hawaiian Islands was established in 1835.

A Biblical shekel of silver was worth about 50 cents.

Work Progresses on New Church

The Seventh-day Adventist Church which is being erected at 30-32 Pearl street is perhaps one of the first pre-fabricated church structures to be erected in this area and is the first ever to be built in Kingston. As the work progresses there has been much interest displayed in the work.

Although ground was broken only about a month ago, today finds the foundation completed, exterior walls and roof rafters in place and sheathing of the roof is now completed and laying of the roofing is under way.

With the exception of the foundation work which was done under the direction of Arthur Grossbohl, who also arranged for the building by the Benart Company of Albany avenue extension of the pre-fabricated portions of the church, the work on the erection of the structure has been done by lay members of the church and by several of the ministers from the Greater New York Conference who arrived this week and gave tremendous impetus in the erection of the exterior walls and roof rafters.

J. Paul Grove, minister of the Kingston Seventh-day Adventist Church, attributes the remarkable progress made to the unusually mild and favorable building weather and to the fine spirit of cooperation on the part of the contractor, Mr. Grossbohl, who laid the foundation and arranged for the pre-fabricated parts. Russell C. Smith of this city was the salesman from the Benart Company who sold the structure to the congregation. Mr. Smith said the church edifice is the first church building to be built in this locality in a pre-fabricated state. The Benart Company, of which Mr. Grossbohl is the owner and operator, has a sales place on Albany avenue extension and plans to erect numerous other pre-fabricated structures in this locality. Mr. Grossbohl resides at Richmond Park, and the company maintains an office adjacent to the site of the Halstead Pre-Fabricated Homes, Inc.

Enthusiasm of the lay members of the congregation has been stimulated in the work through the arrival of the several ministers this week from the Greater New York Conference and assisting in the work is Bishop Bunker of the area.

J. Paul Grove, minister, who resides at 124 Wrentham street, a young and vigorous man, recognized the need of a building when he first came to Kingston about two years ago and his persistent efforts since that time have at last realized the hope of the Kingston congregation for their own church building. Some time ago Mr. Smith of the Benart Company and the minister of the church decided that a pre-fabricated structure was the answer and arrangements were made with the company to design and build the pre-fabricated portions of the church to meet the requirements of the congregation.

When work on the foundation was completed members of the congregation turned their hands to the work and it is expected that the structure will shortly be completed ready for use.

Mr. Grove extends a welcome to the public to come and join in worship to God at all services. A belief in the word of God as contained in the entire Bible comprehends the doctrine of the Seventh-day Adventists. (Freeman Photo)

Roslyn Man Dies After Choking on Turkey Meat

Roslyn, N. Y., Dec. 26 (AP)—It was turkey-carving time at the Christmas table in the home of Harold C. Vaughan.

The 38-year-old attorney, no expert at the job, went into the kitchen to do the cutting and escape the jokes of his family.

Minutes later he was heard coughing. His father, Dr. Harold S. Vaughan, an oral surgeon, went to the kitchen and found his son choking on a piece of turkey. A physician and a fire-department oxygen unit were called and the physician performed an emergency throat operation.

But Vaughan died before he could be taken to a hospital.

REALISTIC LOANS

While 30 billion dollars are to be lent to foreign governments for business and relief aids, a new policy of strictness is to mark such American financial transactions. The money goes out to Britain by way of its loan, through the Export-Import Bank, through the World Bank and Monetary Fund, in the guise of bargain prices for war surpluses left in other countries. It goes to France and Russia, probably, for rehabilitation of war-devastated industries.

In all such deals the United States is less willing to be purely altruistic, and is more wary about pouring out good dollars without the prospect of some kind of repayment than it used to be. Too great a portion of U.N.R.R.A. supplies were received without thanks of recognition of America's contribution, by countries who accepted American relief while at the same time their leaders backed anti-American or at least anti-democratic utterances. Also no country will get aid from the United States if it is spending heavily for armament.

No American wants his Uncle Sam to become a skin-flint miser. But he doesn't want him to be the world's everlasting most glib sucker, either. There is always a wiser middle way.

IKE FOR PRESIDENT?

Washington's major indoor sport at present is speculating about the next Republican and Democratic presidential candidates. While President Truman is the logical man to carry the Democratic banner at the next election, he might refuse to run. Who the Republican nominee will be is anybody's guess. Half a dozen men are well out in front for the honor, including New York's Dewey, Minnesota's Stassen and California's Warren. But the candidate among all of them who catches the popular and the politicians' imagination, is Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower. The exciting thing about the general is that he never has played partisan politics and so would be eligible for either party's ticket. The small matter of his own preference has very little to do with it. He has said, "I have no political ambitions at all."

If Ike should be drafted, and be elected, he'd find running the army and winning a war was child's play compared with what he'd get into in Washington. And on general principles, a military man is not a good bet for the highest civilian office. The methods and requirements are too dissimilar.

DE LEON AND CLIPPERS

Ponce de Leon was governor of Puerto Rico in 1509, until he sailed away to discover Florida, a dangerous expedition involving weeks of exploration. Now a person can fly from Puerto Rico to Miami in about two hours.

Ponce de Leon had come with Columbus on his second trip to America. The two men had visions of an extended fabulous world that few of their contemporaries could imagine. They were far ahead of their times both in mental and physical daring. But what would they think of today's Clipper Ships that hop from Havana to New York, to New Orleans, to Brownsville, Tex., and on through Central America to South America's luxury cities? Columbus was searching for a short cut to India. De Leon for a supernatural fountain of youth. Mild dreams these, compared with the modern magic of men mounting skyward on wings.

WAR AND HEIGHT

Tall persons who find their beds too short have a ray of hope for the future. Standard bed sizes should be 78 inches instead of 74, says the National Association of Bedding Manufacturers, which is trying to do something about it. The present standard dates back to World War I, when the average height was 67 inches. It is now 68, and the number of six-footers has nearly doubled.

Evidently the first world war did not cause a serious drain on the country's manhood, if despite it, the average height increased. The Napoleonic wars are supposed to have left

It has become a habit for organizations to give dinners and balls on some occasions at which one or more celebrities are cited for their importance and distinction. That is one way of getting the celebrities to attend the function, even to make a speech without collecting a fee for such services as may be regarded as worth something. Then those who like to see and hear celebrities pay cash for tickets and the organization makes some money. The citations come cheap.

So the New York City Newspaper Guild appointed a committee consisting of Jesse P. Abramson, Herald Tribune; Cecelia Ager, PM; Robert Bagar, World-Telegram; Ben Gross, News; Nora Holt, Amsterdam News; John Martin, Times; Arthur Pollock, Eagle; Karl Schmitt, Newsweek; Leonard Smith, T. H. Wenning, Newsweek; Earl Wilson, Post; John T. McManus, president Newspaper Guild of New York, for the purpose of acting as a jury to select celebrities to be honored in one way or another at a ball that the aforesaid Guild expects to run.

You may be familiar with all these names of the men and women who served on this jury, but in a city which boasts of some of the most distinguished newspapermen in the country, most readers will with difficulty identify more than one or two. John T. McManus, president of the Newspaper Guild, in a letter to a newspaper, stated that William S. Gailmor, never a journalist but a radio broadcaster whose name is Marjorie and who stole five automobiles and who admitted that he suffered from "compulsion neurosis," whatever that may be, was "unable to remain to cast his votes," when the aforesaid jury met to pick the winners out of a long list.

Well, that was the jury and it selected celebrities to suit their taste: those who oppose the American foreign policy, those who favor Soviet Russia, those who prefer the C.I.O.—to be honored by the New York City Newspaper Guild. That is their privilege if they want to do it that way, but it associates the press with the selection and it is a matter of wonder whether such a selection really represents the opinion and wishes of the working press of this city.

For instance, honored is Henry Wallace, but not James Byrnes or Bernard Baruch, who speak for America at U.N. Honored is Brigadier General Evans Carlson, who has supported withdrawing American troops from China (so the Russians can move in), but not General Marshall, Eisenhower or MacArthur, who are veritable heroes of our war. Honored is Senator Claude Pepper, who is strong for Soviet Russia, but not Senator Connally or Vandenberg, who are strong for the United States of America. The choice is so clear that no one can mistake it or the intentions of the choosers.

There are to be awards in the amusement and other fields but these interest me less than the political selections. For instance, among their radio celebrities is the aforesaid William S. Gailmor, of whom it is impossible for me to say anything favorable because of his record and reputation. But that is a matter of taste and what is one man's amusement produces in another boredom. However, as he is listed with Fred Allen, perhaps the intention is to classify him with comedians. It is particularly notable that Fred Allen, since he has grown serious, often has to call attention to the humor in his program which the audience apparently missed.

It is the political selections, however, which are important because they indicate what this jury of newspapermen regard as right. In the face of Henry Wallace's dismissal from the government because he sabotaged its foreign policy, this jury is taking sides between their government and Henry Wallace, between James Byrnes and Henry Wallace, between Bernard Baruch and Henry Wallace. They must have a reason for making this choice. The only reason I can see is that they believe Henry Wallace right and the United States of America wrong in its policy toward Soviet Russia, toward, for instance, handing over to Soviet Russia our defensive weapon, the atomic bomb. It will be a great comfort to Soviet Russia, on the eve of the Moscow Conference, to know that it has this support.

REDUCING WEIGHT

It is interesting to watch the various methods used to reduce weight in those whose excess fat is due simply to eating too much food, that is not due to underactivity of any of the glands — thyroid, pituitary, sex. In these cases every overweight can get rid of his excess fat if he or she will cut down their food intake. By eating about one-half the quantity of food needed by the body, the other half of the body's needs is supplied by the excess fat on the individual. Thus if he or she is in the habit of eating 2400 to 3000 calories daily and cuts it down to 1200 to 1500 calories there will usually be a loss of 1 to 2 pounds weekly.

However, the greatest obstacle to this simple method of reduction is the fact that overweighted always have a good appetite, and feel that they "must" eat. It can be seen then that if the overweight loses some of this appetite and does not feel the need or desire for food then, if also on a reduced diet, he is bound to lose weight.

In the Canadian Medical Association Journal Drs. L. Hawirko and P. H. Sprague report the use of appetite-depressing compounds in 162 cases of overweight caused by eating more food than their bodies needed. In addition to using the drug which depressed the appetite, a daily diet of only 1100 calories was given. The drug used was dexedrine (dextro-amphetamine) the individual dose being 2.5 mg. one hour before each meal. When despite this dosage the weight remained stationary the dose was increased to 5 mg. before the heaviest meal and if necessary 5 mg. before each meal. The largest amount of the drug used was 15 mg. during the 24 hours.

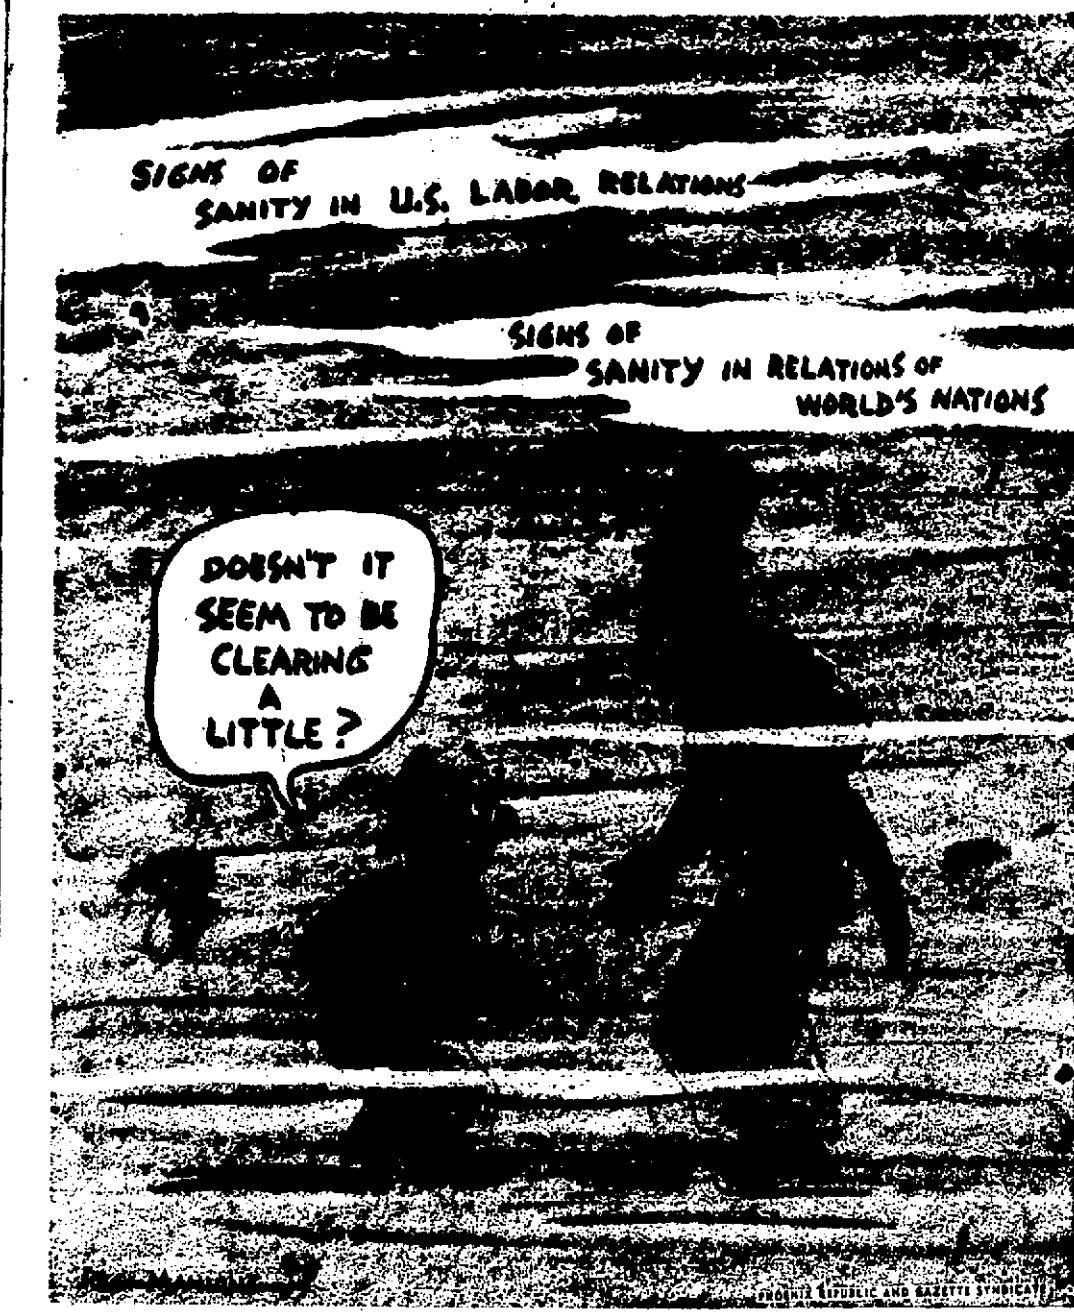

"Dexedrine depressed the appetite sufficiently to enable the patient to follow the 1100 calorie diet without feeling it too great a burden."

In the 72 cases who followed instructions faithfully there was a loss of nearly 60 per cent of their excess weight. Amphetamine is used also in the treatment of alcoholism as it reduces the appetite for alcohol.

The Great Fog of '46

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER.

New York, Dec. 25—I think we may profitably inquire whether some organizations with high-sounding names and professing fine purposes, such as death to Fascism, and the abolition of racial conflict, have become dangerous elements.

In recent years, Congress has devoted more and more time and energy to "investigations." These inquiries usually are led by professional investigators who are hired by the committee on an assumption that they know their subjects, not always, however, do the committees take intelligent precautions to see that the investigators are honest or decent.

An example of that—rather, two examples—were found in the recent Garson case that was uncovered by the so-called Mead Committee of the Senate in its investigation of alleged espionage. The committee discovered that one of the Garsons, who had a long police record, previously had enjoyed great powers as an investigator for two Congressional committees. One dealt with immigration and the other with the disgraceful robbery of small investors by swindles actually worked through the federal courts, unknown to the judges, known as the reorganization racket. This Garson's record should have precluded his employment by Congress in any role. Still less was he trustworthy in a position which gave him the power to shake down aliens who were, or might be given to fear that they were, subject to deportation. That such a man was given the same power to shake down swindlers under investigation in the reorganization racket and to compromise complaints and withhold evidence in return for bribes. The two committees which Garson served apparently didn't investigate him at all. At this late date, in the Mead inquiry, evidence turned up accidentally that Garson had received a large gift of stock from a motion picture magnate who often employed foreign actors and might have lived heavily if some important informant had been suddenly deported. The magnate also had been deeply involved in a scandalous company reorganization.

Also, it has been found that individuals claiming to have made investigations for Congress, some of them liars on that point have made a hand-to-mouth and shady trade of working as "operatives" for private organizations invariably profess the highest principles, but in such general terms that they may actually hound respectable, law-abiding, native Americans with false charges that they are Fascists.

Other organizations—and this kind are called Fascist groups by the first set—follow the pattern of the late Ku Klux Klan. I have seen no evidence that they practice boring from within; that is, planting their members in the ranks of the opposition. On the other hand, they have been stupid in their own "screening" of applicants and there is much literature from professional sneaks who picture themselves as very brave persons for joining such "Fascist" groups. How brave they are we have no idea, because there is no record of the killing or serious injury of any such secret agents. The risks seem to exist only in their own fears and not to exceed such unpleasant but hardly terrifying experiences as the conventional American punch in the snout or kick in the pants.

The two groups of organizations are hostile bodies, but which represents the initial peril to the public and which a reaction to that initiative is a question.

As long as Hitler ruled Germany and particularly in the late pre-war and early war years, there was a reasonable excuse for the existence of groups here which opposed Hitler's penetration of our country through such outfits as the Bund. These German gangs checked on the remarks of Americans and immigrants and reported them to Berlin whence reprisals were taken against their relatives in Germany. This was coercion of Americans of German birth or descent and an infringement by an agency of a foreign power of American constitutional freedom of speech and conscience. They also penetrated our National Guard to a minor but impudent extent and in other ways abused our hospitality. Their weakness was shown, however, by the fact that no great explosion by sabotage is known to have occurred here and no case was made public of the loss of an American troop by reason of their espionage.

The "anti-Fascist" groups began to take on importance, but soon became counter-espionage systems. One outfit actually claimed to have helped the American Government to save the situation after Pearl Harbor because it had been in the business of counter-espionage for several years while the government napped. Judging by the fine record of actual government agencies after we went to war, it must be doubted that the government was napping when it seemed to be.

At any rate, no intelligent American can concede any private, secret organization with secret "operatives" using many false names, and even numbers instead of names, and some of them aliens, a right to operate as a secret police and espionage force, and the exclusive right of government. We do have private detective agencies, but they are licensed as such for state purposes and are supposed to be closely supervised. These political societies do not call themselves espionage agencies and, to the extent that they act as unlicensed detectives, they would seem to be violating our laws. They live on contributions which are deductible from the tax returns of the donors in the guise of gifts to "educational" groups. So, obviously, it is up to the paid officials and employees to keep the pot boiling with startling escapades and revelations which put fear into some of our citizens. These citizens and some of our aliens are made to fear that Hitlerian groups are secretly forming among us and that the government is apathetic. Therefore they are persuaded that their only protection is offered by these secret societies.

The other side of the coin reveals, first, that Hitler and all the other highest Nazis are dead. The Nazi Government and the Nazi party of Germany have been destroyed. Thus these groups lost their original reason for existence and the paid officials and "operatives" were in danger of losing their jobs. The natural thing for them to do, therefore, assuming, that they had an alert self-interest, was to find "native Fascists," and if they couldn't find Fascists, to make some.

One way to make Klansmen in the southern states is to insist on the abolition of racial segregation. Propaganda to this end began to flow from New York and the response came quickly in the formation of "Fascist" groups for resistance. The organizers of these latter certainly were helped by the fact that they could point to alien refugees in New York as the dominating spirits behind this dangerous demand—and, all other questions aside, it is dangerous.

The next move would be to penetrate these inept Klansmen groups, get their secrets, expose them and dramatize the exposure. Then would come the passing of the hat for more contributions deductible from the donors' tax returns.

Discussion of Candidates for Republican Presidential Nomination Is Considered Extraordinary This Far in Advance

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Dec. 26—There is something rather extraordinary about the way candidates for the Republican presidential nomination are being openly discussed more than a year and a half ahead of the time for holding the national party convention.

In other times it was considered unwise to launch a boom so far in advance. Yet Harold Stassen, former governor of Minnesota, has already announced his candidacy and the two Ohio senators—Taft and Bricker—are trying to decide which shall ask for the Buckeye State's endorsement. While Senator Vandenberg, of Michigan, and Governor Dewey, of New York, have not made any announcement of active candidacy, the press generally expects each to be a potent factor and it would be a surprise if one or the other were chosen.

Neither Senator Vandenberg nor Governor Dewey will begin active campaigns for delegates, however. Either Senator Bricker or Senator Taft will be asking pledges as soon as it is determined which one will bow to the other.

This maneuvering is normal and customary, with the exception of the part being played by former Governor Stassen. At present, writing many correspondents would not concede Stassen much of a chance, largely because the trend of Republican party thinking is supposed to be conservative. Why then would Stassen start out so vigorously in what some might believe to be a hopeless cause? The answer is that Stassen is a comparatively young man and he is determined to help mould the thinking of the Republican party whether or not it gets him the nomination.

Stassen will bear watching because he will not be uttering the evasively worded speeches and compromises that candidates usually give forth when they are seeking delegates. Stassen has approached the candidacy in the right manner—while he would like to win the nomination he does not want it at the expense of principle. He can thus afford to take positive positions on public questions.

Stassen, moreover, knows that only by having a following of his own at the convention can he influence the committee on platform. Undoubtedly he will enter the primaries of some of the western states and he may even go into eastern primaries.

Certainly the former Minnesota governor will be a factor to be reckoned with as he brings about a delineation of views inside the Republican party. Stassen can be called a "New Deal" Republican or "Leftist" though he will be accused of that before the campaign is over. He is much more the Willkie type of Republican and closer to the philosophy expressed by Theodore Roosevelt in the days of the "Progressive" movement.

It may be that Governor Dewey of New York will not take an active part in the pre-convention campaign leaving it to the party itself to determine the matter much as he did last time. Friends of course will work in his behalf and the New York governor will be expected to make his views known on current issues. In the end, it would not be surprising if the spade work done by Stassen either will cause such a revolt inside the Republican party as to make him a serious contender for the nomination himself or to influence many voters to turn to Governor Dewey as a man reflecting much more the liberal or progressive view than might be the case with the other candidates.

The advancement of the Stassen candidacy is the most significant development in national politics since the last elections. The real significance seems to have been generally overlooked. For Stassen has undertaken really to make sure that the Republican party doesn't turn the clock back but retains those social reforms which ought to be retained while correcting the abuses in existing laws. These abuses of power have enabled the New Dealers in the name of "liberalism" to exploit the people for the benefit of selfish groups which, under the skin, have been "reactionary" and materialistic as any conservative Republicans of yesterday.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By HAL BOYLE

New York, Dec. 26 (AP)—I can stand everything about Christmas except the day after.

That is today.

Today I want a nice padded cell away from anything and anybody I ever knew. Don't you, too?

Don't you wish you were a leprechaun? Wouldn't it be nice to say "The devil take the whole human race." And really not care? I would like to take off my shoes right now and wade around in the morning dew of a land I never saw.

I would like to shuck off this husk "me" and be somebody else. Don't you ever get tired of your own identity?

I've worn the "dogtag" of myself so long that I would trade places with a Siberian shepherd if I didn't hate to eat lamb so much.

Did you ever look into the eyes of a cat? There is mystery. A cat is caged and purring adventure. The eyes of a cat are windows to a terrible wonderland in which we tame people are afraid to wander.

I am an untidy man sitting at a desk heaped one foot high with letters. In each letter is a problem. I hate to answer letters because I don't think any problem in life is ever really solved. I think we just keep postponing the solutions until death wears out our compromises.

No Sir, Not Today

Do you think it would be fun to have my job and write a daily page for the newspapers? Not today.

I had a swell Christmas yesterday, but it was just the kind of a day you had. Something to enjoy—but nothing to write about.

But then I came into my office to "dig my daily grave," as Don Marquis once described the task of writing a column.

And a fellow said, "Why don't you write about the people that don't have anybody to be with on Christmas but still try to be long? Like the old elevator operator that hung a Christmas wreath on his elevator because if he hung it in his room nobody would see it but him."

And another guy said, "Why don't you write about the express men who deliver Christmas packages? I ran into one who was frantic because all day long he had been trying to deliver a twenty-five pound turkey with the feathers still on it to a woman who wasn't home. And he told me the year before he delivered two full grown great danes to a woman and she fainted—right under the mistletoe."

Well, now, who wants to write about people with problems on the day after Christmas? My heart is a wrung out rag. I feel sorry for all two-legged folk in general, but not for anybody in particular. Do you?

Kiss From the Breeze

Today I just want to take off my clothes in the Garden of Eden, and let my four remaining gray hairs float in a breeze born in the springtime of the world.

I don't want to meet anybody I ever knew or say anything I ever said before. I would like to eat lunch with a whale with six legs or play tiddlywinks with Cleopatra.

Wouldn't it be wonderful on this day after Christmas—the one period of fantasy in our always troubled year—to do something never done before? To walk right through the doorway of our commonplace existence and wrestle with the fourth dimension.

Wouldn't you like to know, for example, what young dog really thinks of you? Or what man's tastes like? Or who was the most beautiful woman who ever lived? Or what was the first word Eve spoke to Adam?

Well, a fellow will. But every body gets a tin whistle of some kind on Christmas. And today—if you'll excuse me—I'm blowing mine and romping in everlasting pastures, where the grass is always green and the wind is never chill.

Cometh now the good wife with the aspirin tablet.

Dec. 26, 1936—Reports throughout the country said that unusual winter weather and prosperous business conditions had brought one of the warmest of Christmases. There were tragic deaths, however, as at least 285 deaths from holiday accidents were reported.

General Chang had returned to Nanking after two weeks captivity. Engagement of Janet Betz to John Preston Ramsey of Grinnell, Iowa, announced.

Holiday traffic through Kingston reported not particularly heavy. One accident reported to police. Joseph Bruno of 12 Sassa street struck by a car near Field Court. Bruised about the body.

Christmas Lived In World Despite Upsets Abroad

London, Dec. 26 (AP)—In France it was Joyeux Noel. In Germany it was Frohliche Weihnachten. In English, the world around, it was merry Christmas.

Food shortages, fuel shortages, inflation and bitter memories of war combined to dampen, but not to quench, the spirit of one of Christendom's holiest days—and the gladdest.

Temperatures soared unexpectedly in much of Europe to ease a little bit, and for a little while, one problem of a continent which has been without fuel all winter.

Rations were relaxed a trifle in many lands to give the hungry multitudes a bit more food for the holiday.

England celebrated her merriest Christmas in eight years, heartened by King George's broadcast promise that "better days lie ahead." Speaking into a golden microphone, the king told his subjects all over the world that: "Our task is to mobilize the Christmas spirit and to apply its power and healing to our daily life."

Frenchmen forgot for a while their worries about the bloody strife in far-off Indochina and about the future of their new fourth republic to worship in chilly churches and to sit down to fairly abundant meals with a glass of wine or two.

Troops Play Santa
In Germany, American occupation troops played Santa Claus for thousands of German youngsters under the new "friendship" policy. Germans and Americans attended church together and sang carols. And the world, American soldiers transmitted their enthusiasm for the Yuletide season to the Japanese, whose outlook for the future was a little brighter than last year, with a more promising food outlook.

For some German prisoners of war the day brought cheer, too. French newspapers published an announcement saying that 7,000 Saar-born German prisoners would be set free next month. In Britain prisoners were permitted outside their internment camps unescorted for the first time.

Many of them wandered through London's streets gazing at buildings smashed by German bombs and rockets. Others were invited into British homes, so there were German carols at English hearths.

Thousands of pilgrims journeyed to Bethlehem for the traditional re-enactment of the birth of Christ. Police guarded the road from Jerusalem to Bethlehem to prevent any new outbreak of violence in the strife-torn land.

In Holland, newspapers which two years ago were publishing war maps yesterday printed maps showing where the best ice skating could be found.

Dewey's Get Mascot
Albany, N. Y., Dec. 26 (AP)—A new mascot cavorts in the executive mansion today. He is Champion Gerhardt Second, an eight-week-old golden brindle Great Dane puppy presented to Governor yesterday by Mrs. Dewey as a surprise Christmas present. Dewey and his sons, Thomas, Jr., 14, and John, 11, nicknamed the pup Gerry. The dog is a nephew of Canute, Great Dane which figured in the news in 1944 when Dewey was campaigning for the presidency. Canute died last March.

British Observe Their Boxing Day

Celebration Has Nothing to Do With Ring Program; It's for Snores, Burps

London, Dec. 26 (AP)—It may be nothing more than the day after Christmas in America but in England it's Boxing Day—and quiet. The proverbial Sunday afternoon in Philadelphia is like New Year's Eve in Times Square by comparison.

From the northern border, where the Scots fondle jugs of their national beverage in anticipation of New Year's, to the southern coast, where whole families are snuggled up in resort hotels, the only sounds to be heard are the gentle snore and the polite burp.

Like Christmas itself, Boxing Day is a national holiday. It exists in order that people can get over Christmas before going back to work. The people take full advantage of it.

Everything is closed, including the eyes of tax-drivers. You can't buy bread, milk or, unless you find an untraditional publican, beer. Trains and buses creep along resentfully if they run at all. Newspapers don't publish. Dogs don't bark.

Boxing Day gets its name, according to most authorities, from the old custom of leaving boxes of Christmas goodies for the milkman, the milkman and others who bring things to you on the day after Christmas. The name has outlived the custom.

Nowadays the milkman, whom you may not have seen since last Boxing Day, rings your doorbell briskly several mornings before Christmas, gets you out of bed, hands you the gas bill and stands expectantly with his pencil poised over a list with your name on it: Come Boxing Day, he stays home like everybody else. The two shillings (forty cents) that everybody on his route gave him, in order to get checked off on his list, like as not added up to a hilarious Christmas.

North of the border the Scots, who look down their cold-reddened noses at the whole business of Christmas, ignore Boxing Day as well. Their holiday is New Year's. The great exodus from England to the Highlands will begin as soon as the railroads get the Boxing Day sleep out of their eyes.

Flashes of Life
Sketched in Brief

Amunition Conservation
Joplin, Mo., Dec. 26 (AP)—Quail hunting with a friend, Gene Hatfield leveled his gun on a bird as it rose in a flush, but he didn't have to shoot.

The bird flew against the barrel of the gun and dropped at Hatfield's feet with a broken neck.

Surprise
Hollywood, Dec. 26 (AP)—Did your Christmas presents surprise you?

Chet Lauck is still a little amazed over one—a 50-year-old elephant wearing a sign "Merry Xmas to the Laucks"—he found among his gifts yesterday. The pachyderm was sent by W. C. Stroube of Corsicana, Tex., to the "Lum" of "Lum and Abner" radio fame. Last year Stroube sent a parrot and the year before a non-descript bird.

Good Neighbors
Palmyra, Ill., Dec. 26 (AP)—Seventy men joined to help make a merry Christmas for Mrs. Harry Wood.

The neighbors of Mrs. Wood, whose husband was killed recently in a fire which destroyed their farm home, went to her home with 16 tractors, 10 trucks, 20 wagons and 10 compickers.

In less than a day the Woods' 65 acres of corn were harvested, and about 5,000 bushel shelled and tracked to an elevator.

Drury Favors Ban On Planes in U. S. National Parks

Washington, Dec. 26 (AP)—If the man who runs them has his way, this country's national parks will remain islands of quiet in an age of speed and noise.

Newton B. Drury, director of the National Park Service, urged today in his annual report to the Secretary of the Interior that the long-standing ban against airplanes over federal parks be perpetuated because:

Takeoffs and landings would disturb park wildlife and "for some rare species, such as the Trumpeter Swan and the Sandhill Crane, the effects probably would be serious."

The danger of fire or damage to natural features from plane crashes would be increased.

Natural landscapes would have to be disturbed to provide runways and servicing facilities.

Airplanes would create too much noise.

Office Cat

Believe Me, If—
Believe me, if all those adhering young charms
Which I view with admiring dismay.
Are going to rub off on the shoulders and arms
Of this suit which was cleaned just today.

usual zeal,
My sweetheart, my loved one, my own:
But I sternly repress the emotions
I feel
And love you, but leave you alone.
It is not that thy beauty is any
the less,
Nor thy cheeks unaccustomedly
gay:
They are lovely indeed, as I gladly confess.
And I think I should leave them that way.
For the bloom of your youth isn't on very tight,
And the powder rubs off of your nose,
So my love is platonic, my dear,
for tonight.
Since these are my best clothes—

Floris—Mr. Smith, won't you buy a bouquet, to present to the lady you love?
Mr. Smith—That wouldn't be right. I'm a married man.

When James Gordon Bennett was an editor of the New York Herald he once summoned his London correspondent to meet him in Paris. The correspondent knew that his employer was a great lover of dogs. He also had a premonition that he was going to be discharged, but he was not without resources. After Bennett had kept him waiting for an hour he was finally admitted. A half dozen poodles began greeting him by licking his hands and face.

Bennett's hostility melted like magic. He not only shook hands warmly with his employee but gave him a raise in salary. When the correspondent returned to his room he changed his clothes and removed from his pockets some choice cuts of cooked liver which he had carefully secreted in them.

Hubby—You're half an hour late. What do you mean by keeping me standing around like a fool?
Wife—I can't help the way you stand.

There is much truth in a saying said to have been made by Calvin
Coolidge, former president of the United States. He said: "Never go out to meet trouble. If you just sit still, nine times out of ten, someone will intercept it before it reaches you."

The Lady Answers
Shake, you husband from Ohio,
I, too, am immune from pain;
Years ago I wed a farmer
Who raises nothing but
"cain."
—A Mississippi Wife.

Doctor—I have told your wife that she must go to Arizona.
Man—That's all right, doctor;
now tell me I must go to Florida.

Woman Is Under $4,000 Bond for Kidnaping Child

Milford, Conn., Dec. 26 (AP)—Mrs. Laurel Baren Ronstadt was at liberty under a bond of $4,000 today awaiting arraignment in town court on a charge of kidnaping her three-year-old son, Robert W. Ronstadt, Jr., from his ex-Marine father in Los Angeles early last month.

Detective Captain Henry J. Galbroner said Mrs. Ronstadt was taken into custody at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Baren on a warrant issued by Town Court Prosecutor Charles A. Mahan.

Galbroner said that the couple were estranged and that Ronstadt, after beginning a divorce action, had obtained custody of his son in an action in Milford probate court.

The detective captain said that the warrant charged that Mrs. Ronstadt kidnaped her son on November 5 and brought him to her parents' home.

Ronstadt who asked that his wife be arrested, Galbroner added, is planning to fly from the coast to attend her trial on next Tuesday.

Roosevelt Says He Still Holds Ideals Of F.D.R. Best

Truman Administration Has Diverged From Path Set Under Late President

New York, Dec. 26 (AP)—Elliott Roosevelt, returning from a six-week trip to Russia and Poland, said yesterday he still was of the opinion the Truman administration had departed from certain of his father's domestic and foreign policies and that he would oppose this divergence.

Asked whether he had changed his mind about previously expressed differences with the present administration, the late President's son said:

"I do feel the same about it and will continue to oppose them. I intend to take an active part in the coming elections. I still adhere to my father's ideas and ideals."

He said his future political actions would "depend upon the policies of the several parties, who the candidates are and what they do between now and 1948. I do believe, however, in working within the framework of the two major parties."

He said he favors no candidate—at least "not yet."

Roosevelt, accompanied by his wife, actress Faye Emerson, made the trip for a national magazine (Life).

He said he and his wife visited Stalin "in Moscow on his birthday December 21. He had a very nice time. I can say very definitely regarding his health that he looked extremely well."

Americans Demand Explanation About French Activities

Berlin, Dec. 26 (AP)—The Americans have officially demanded from the French an explanation of reports that they have been stripping industries from other sections of their zone in Germany and transferring them into the Saar, around which they have now established a customs frontier, it was learned today.

Lieut. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, deputy American military governor, asked specifically about the big Robert Bosch electrical parts plant, which the French are said to have moved from southern Württemberg into the Saar.

Clay, it was learned, requested that the French present the facts in this case to the Quadripartite Allied Control Authority here. He rejected a French contention that it was a unilateral matter and not of quadripartite concern.

The dispute over the French zone industries was another facet of the Saar issue, which came into prominence when the French last week-end sent 1,200 customs officers into the Saar to set up the customs frontier between the resource-rich territory and the remainder of Germany.

Clay protested that operation as an "entirely unilateral action which was not presented to the Allied Control Council for consideration."

Although the French asserted the customs action was an anti-blackmarket measure to safeguard the Saar's food supply and shield its fiscal economy, German political parties here charged that it was, in effect, a chance of the frontiers and "amputation of the Saar from the German economy."

German political spokesmen said it was a step by the French toward annexation of the Saar and they expressed the hope that the Foreign Ministers Council at its Moscow meeting in March would "rescue the Saar from Germany."

Reports Collision

Joseph Kish of 23 Pearl street reported to the police Tuesday afternoon that he had struck a car belonging to Harry Friedman of 27 Lafayette avenue. He reported that the accident happened in Saugerties about 1:30 p. m. but that he had not stopped following the collision. Kish was directed to contact Sergeant Mills of the Saugerties police and also to get in touch with Mr. Friedman.

Gas Strike Affects Industrial Plants

Newark, N. J., Dec. 26 (AP)—Industrial concerns in parts of five northern and central New Jersey counties were without gas today as a result of a strike in two gas manufacturing plants of the Public Service Electric and Gas Company.

Curtailment of service to industrial users in Hudson county and parts of Bergen, Union, Middlesex and Somerset counties was ordered yesterday by State Labor Commissioner Harry C. Harper.

Harper was directed to operate the two strikebound plants at Jersey City and Piscataway township, near New Brunswick, by Gov. Walter E. Edge who ordered the state to take them over shortly after some 400 members of Local 274B, Plumbers and Steamfitters Union (A.F.L.) failed to report for work at 4 p. m. Tuesday.

Employees Get Bonds

Tuesday, Canfield Supply Company took a few minutes off from a busy day and called 36 employees to the office where W. C. Kingston thanked all for their loyal support and help in moving and for their efficient service to their many customers. Mr. Kingston and E. H. C. Angell passed out Christmas presents in the form of United States bonds.

Search for Plane Is Intensified in Costa Rican Area

Philadelphia, Dec. 26 (AP)—Winged Cargo, Inc., officials said today the search for a DC-3 transport, missing since December 17 with five passengers and two crewmen, has been intensified following a report that an American plane had crashed on a Costa Rican banana plantation.

Company President Fred P. Dolanberg said Raymond W. Baldwin, vice president now in Costa Rica, had telephoned him that a native, who brought word of the wrecked American plane, said the crew and passengers were safe.

The missing plane, en route from Philadelphia to Costa Rica, was carrying five Costa Ricans, including a three-year-old girl, in addition to Howard Wynn, 26, of Wilmington, Del., pilot of the transport, and Howard Jensen, 29, co-pilot from Philadelphia.

Bowery Folk Have to Be Persuaded to Take Cash

New York, Dec. 26 (AP)—Joseph Bonavita, came down to the Bowery yesterday bearing gifts—real bright, green dollar bills.

But unlike Santa Claus—the 39-year-old ex-fighter turned restaurateur, had a hard time disposing of his presents, for the Bowery residents are a cynical and disillusioned lot.

When police finally gave their stamp of approval that the bills were authentic U. S. coin of the realm and assigned a detective to persuade the more difficult cases that this was so, the money flowed like water.

Bonavita gave away nearly all of the $1,500 he came down to the Bowery with from Brooklyn.

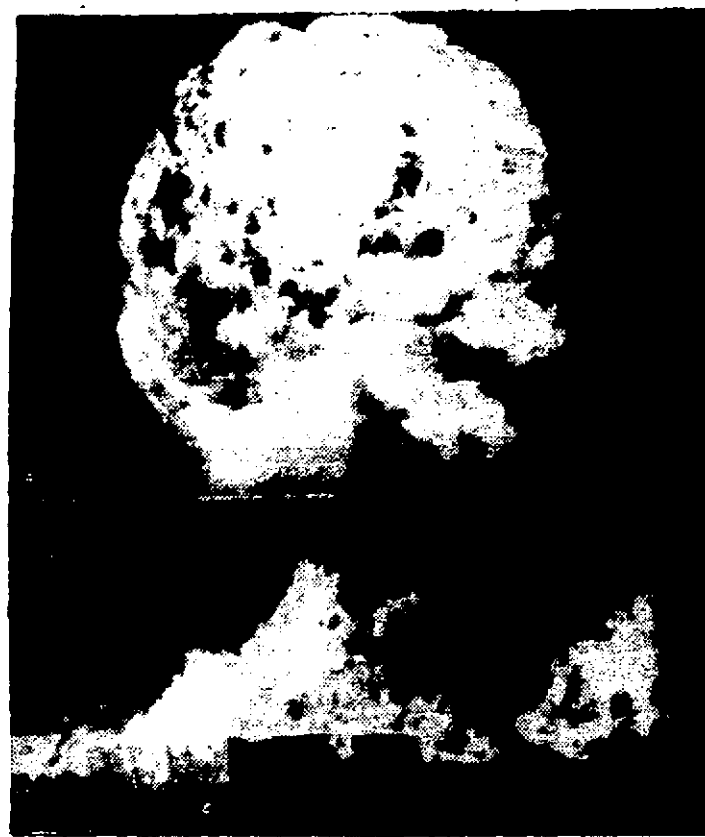

He told police "this is the fifth Christmas I've done this, but not on such a scale before."

Mrs. Spaatz Is Safe

Philadelphia, Dec. 26 (AP)—Mrs. Anne M. Spaatz, 80-year-old mother of General Carl A. Spaatz, commander of the Army Air Forces, was back safely today at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Leaver of nearby Overbrook Hills, from which she disappeared yesterday.

Mrs. Spaatz, who arrived earlier from her home in Boyertown, Pa., to spend the holidays with her daughter, left the Leaver home for a short walk after dinner. When she failed to return, Mrs. Leaver notified police who located the general's mother in the 30th street railroad station here last night.

1946 Fire Toll Was Heaviest In History of United States

ATOMIC BOMB: No. 1's fire, the destroyer setting a new record in U. S. for 1946. This was one of the spectacular blazes of the year, a fire ball above a River Rouge, Mich., lumber yard when warlike tanks let go on August 1.

By DAVID G. BAREUTHER

Ap Newsfeatures Writer

New York—Fire took a greater toll throughout the United States in 1946 than even in years when entire cities burned—greater than 1906 when San Francisco was leveled, 1904 when Baltimore burned, or 1871 when Chicago was destroyed.

The National Board of Fire Underwriters, with statistics completed for the first 11 months of the year totaling $503,393,000, expects fire losses for 1946 to exceed $560,000,000—an all-time high—when final returns have been tabulated. By contrast, the loss in the year San Francisco burned, when many fire insurance companies failed, aggregated $518,000,000.

A record death toll is expected to be revealed when statistics have been compiled. The Wincoff Hotel tragedy in Atlanta on Dec. 7, in which 121 persons died, climaxed a series of hotel fires which were among the worst in history. These included the La Salle Hotel fire in Chicago where 61 were killed, the Canfield Hotel at Dubuque, Iowa, with 19 dead, and several others.

Although the hotel fires at tracted the most attention, W. E. Mallahan, general manager of the Underwriters' Board, points out that "an average of 27 persons died every day in some of the 650,000 lesser known fires of 1946."

Thirty-seven persons were killed in one day in New York when a fire in an abandoned icehouse caused a tenement building to collapse.

The most costly fire of the year, according to the board's records, was the burning of a whisky warehouse at Fresno, Calif., on August 28 with a loss to the government, alone, of close to $11,000,000 in liquor taxes. In addition, the value of the spirits destroyed amounted to more than $3,000,000. More than 10,000 barrels of whisky, 3,000 barrels of whisky and 7,000 drums of alcohol, each holding 55 gallons, were lost.

Industry was hard hit by other multi-million dollar blazes that destroyed valuable stocks of critically short materials as well as the factories that produced them. In Langley, S. C., a textile warehouse burned on July 3, at a loss of $3,800,000. A Philadelphia chemical plant burned at a cost of $1,725,000. Five blocks of warehouses in Pittsburgh, eight freight cars and tons of food went up in a $2,000,000 fire on March 21. A Paris, Ill., grain mill fire on September 22, and the Staten Island, N. Y., ferry terminal fire on June 25.

Three other $2,000,000 fires were a Cicero, Ill., picture frame plant on January 2, five buildings in the business district of Muskegon, Mich., February 22, and the Staten Island, N. Y., ferry terminal fire on June 25.

There were several million-dollar fires.

Smokers' carelessness, lack of automatic sprinklers and fire escapes, delayed fire alarms and antiquated construction were among factors brought out by investigation of the disasters. The National Board of Fire Underwriters distributed a suggested "Ordinance Providing Safety to Life in Places of Assembly," and various cities set about revising their fire laws.

W. C. Fields Dies In Sanitarium of Liver Condition

W. C. FIELDS

Pasadena, Calif., Dec. 26 (AP)—Bulbous-nosed W. C. Fields, 66, vaudeville and movie comic whose capacity for liquor finally became a matter of court record, died Christmas Day in a sanitarium where for months he had been under treatment for a liver ailment.

Nurses said he quipped with them until a few hours before his death, he slipped into a coma. Although he had been troubled by liver and kidney ailments for two years, physicians said the immediate cause of death was a dropsical condition.

Born Claude William Dukinfield in Philadelphia, January 29, 1880, he revised his last name, reversed his initials and graduated from a $5 a week juggler to the Ziegfeld Follies and films.

Nine years ago, a physician sued Fields for $12,000 for 23 days of hospital treatment. Fields retorted in a cross-complaint that the doctor's methods retarded his recovery, to which the physician replied the comic's habit of drinking two quarts a day was the impending factor.

"Nonsense," Fields bellowed, in his best buffoon manner. "I never drank two quarts a day, not even in the good old days. Right now I'm a teetotaler."

The judge awarded the doctor $12,000, but Fields later paid the figure to $2000.

He was a frequent target for gags from other comics and only yesterday—in a special Christmas broadcast—his close friend Bob Hope aimed a barb in Fields' direction, not knowing that the latter was already dead. Informed of it later, Hope said he made Fields a frequent target because the latter got "such a big kick out of it."

Forest Lawn Memorial Park in nearby Glendale, resting place of such movie greats as Jean Harlow, Marie Dressler and Douglas Fairbanks, Sr., will be the scene of funeral services. The time has not yet been set.

New York, Dec. 26 (AP)—Baron Robert De Rothschild, 66, who until his retirement as a partner of de Rothschild Freres of Paris shared the leadership of the famous banking house with his cousin Baron Edouard de Rothschild, died of pneumonia yesterday in Lausanne, Switzerland. A. L. Binstock, attorney for the family, reported. He had resided in the United States from 1940, when he came here following the invasion of France, until early this year.

Business and Financial Outlook For 1947 by Roger W. Babson

1947 in a Nutshell

BUSINESS: To reach higher levels than recorded in 1946.
COMMODITIES: Opposing trends.
LABOR: Some basic problems to be solved.
REAL ESTATE: Continued good demand for modern suburban homes.
POLITICS: Increased foreign troubles.
STOCKS: To work higher.
BONDS: Firmness temporary.

By ROGER W. BABSON

One big event of 1947 will be a beginning of a movement of population from the big coastal cities to the small interior cities, unless definite steps are taken for world disarmament.

General Business

A year ago the U. S. Babson chart registered 130. Today it is estimated at 160. The Canadian Babson chart registered 190 a year ago. Today it is estimated at 204. Sometime during 1947 these charts will register higher figures.

Reconversion of industry from war to peace has been completed although the great government surpluses have not yet been disposed of, leaving much more to be sold in 1947.

Inventories, quoted both at their price values and their volumes, will increase during 1947. Both raw material piles and manufactured goods will be in greater supply in 1947.

Commodity Prices

Some rationing and priorities may continue into 1947, but both will rapidly be eliminated. Government regulations will gradually be lessened. World War 2 will officially be ended.

The retail prices of most manufactured products will be higher sometime during 1947 than at present. The prices of some of the food products may decline.

The unit sales of some department stores will begin to decline sometime during 1947; but the sales of food and variety chains may continue at peak figures.

The great question mark of 1947 will be how labor is to behave. Higher wage rates and less production per man inevitably mean higher prices.

Farm Outlook

Pending a weather upset, more bushels of corn and wheat and of some other products will be raised in 1947 than ever before in our history. Although some prices may slide off, the total farm income for 1947 should hold up fairly well. But farmers should diversify more in 1947.

There should be an increase in certain fruits, fish products and vegetables with a decline in prices. The United States will have more to eat in 1947 than in 1946, probably 10 per cent over the year level.

Dairy and poultry products will continue to increase in volume with no increase in price; but fats, sugar and some canned goods will continue short.

Farmers will start in 1947 to work to extend legislation on their parity program due to fear of a collapse in farm prices.

Taxes

Taxes will not be increased during 1947, and there should be further reductions. More nuisance taxes may be eliminated altogether.

The federal debt will be decreased during 1947 and the federal budget may be balanced by June 30, 1948.

The cost of living will continue to rise during 1947 due largely to the lack of interest in their work by so many wage-workers.

Providing jobs for returning soldiers at satisfactory wages will be a big political task of 1947. There should be jobs for all, but not at the wages desired.

Retail Sales

The total volume of all retail sales will be about the same as in 1946. Poor quality goods will suffer, but many items now unavailable will be put on the shelves.

The total dollar value of all retail sales should exceed 1946 with an increased demand for woolen and cotton textiles.

There will be a continued demand for men's clothing and especially for shirts and underwear.

Wise shoppers will buy only what they need and not grab to stock up on goods not absolutely required.

Foreign Trade

The United States will own over 50 per cent of the world's shipping in 1947 and foreign trade will increase.

We will continue our policy of making foreign loans, provided the borrowers will agree to spend a fair proportion of the money in America.

Both the British Empire and Russia will keenly compete for foreign trade during 1947; but cartels and government monopolies will be frowned upon.

Throughout 1947 war talk will continue, the thought being that, sooner or later, England—who truly is in a terrible predicament—will "shoot" to stop further Russian aggression.

Labor

Even President Truman's "eighteen and one-half cents" will be forgotten during 1947. The year will be noted for threatened strikes and labor disturbances.

Industrial employment during 1947 could be up both in hours and in pay rolls, labor leaders' discouraging attitude notwithstanding.

Many industries, now operating on a forty-hour week, will return to a longer week during 1947. There will be no wage reductions and some further advances.

The government will try to demand better management and closer labor-management relations. Such prospects are not bright for 1947; but Congress will repeal or amend some of the present labor laws which are very unfair to management.

Inflation

The Inflation Era, which we have been forecasting for several years, will be in full swing; but the reckless printing of currency will not come until after 1950. The purchasing power of the dollar will continue to decline.

All 1947 wage increases will be distinctly inflationary.

Sometime during 1947 production in many lines will have caught up with consumption, people will have spent their savings and then there will be a surplus of goods.

If Stalin's health continues good, he will be the world's most powerful man in 1947, even from an economic standpoint.

Stock Market

The rails may suffer still further declines sometime during 1947. Certain industrial manufacturing and other war stocks will further decline during 1947, but the Dow-Jones Industrial Average will register higher prices sometime during 1947 than the December, 1946, averages. All depends upon how labor behaves in America and how Russia behaves abroad and upon what the United Nations do as to disarmament.

The safest stocks to buy—considering value, income and safety—will continue to be "chain-store" and "recreation" stocks.

1946 saw a large decline in certain stocks compared with the averages. Switching will be the outstanding market feature during 1947. Especially watch for bargains in airline stocks.

The stock market will continue to witness creeping general inflation and no evidence yet exists as to whether the "communist break" in 1946 was the beginning of a real bear market or only a reaction of a bull market.

Bonds

Although bank loaning rates should continue a slowly upward tendency, interest rates in general will remain low through 1947. The money supply is now 25 percent above normal and Government financing demands continued low rates.

Anticipating an expected reduction in Federal taxes, 1947 should see a further falling off in the prices of most municipal and other tax-exempt bonds.

Some high-grade bonds may hold steady, but sooner or later will decline considerably. The Federal Government's 2 1/2's, which once sold above 106, will sell down to par or new 2 1/2's will be offered at par. Investors will give more attention to diversification and staggered maturities during 1947.

More public utilities will be taken over by Federal and other "authorities" during 1947. Wise investors will consider this possibility when selecting public utility securities.

Real Estate

Suburban real estate will continue in greater demand with still higher prices during 1947. City real estate may hold its own due to less available space caused by pulling down structures to save taxes and provide parking spaces—also to be disinclination to build due to the present high inflationary building costs. The fear of bombing—in case of a re-opening of World War II—may also be a factor.

Small subsistence farms will continue to increase in price; but large commercial farms may sell for less in 1947 than in 1946. Building will show a considerable increase. Contracts will be up with advancing prices. The present scarcity of lumber, cement, bricks and labor should begin to ease up in 1947.

Office and residential rents during 1947 may be expected to increase.

1947 will see the beginning of the real building boom which should have started in 1946.

Politics and Postwar Peace President Truman now has lost control of Congress and both parties will be playing politics in anticipation of 1948.

Our foreign headaches will become worse—and more frequent during 1947. What we are going through to reorganize Germany will be repeated in other countries.

The Latin-American honeymoon has passed its peak. The attitude of Argentina will extend to other countries. Our South American troubles will continue to increase during 1947.

Next year should see more religious interest, including more church-going, than did 1946. People gradually are realizing that without a spiritual awakening no peace or other plans will be much good. Nations cannot be depended upon to cooperate and stick to their agreements unless they recognize God as their real ruler and guide. Hence, what good are agreements with Russia?

Full House Is Expected for B'nai B'rith Fight Tonight; Chiefs Rally to Nip Paterson in Pro League Tilt, 44 to 42

Barone-Keough Bout Tops Holiday Bill at Auditorium

Supporting Fights Promise Plenty of Action; Four Locals on Card; First at 9 P.M.

This is the night for Tony Barone, Schenectady welterweight star, to get even with Jackie Keough, Cleveland ring luminary. The two are matched in the featured bout on B'nai B'rith's card at the municipal auditorium, which is expected to be packed to capacity. Starting time is 9 o'clock.

Barone hopes to balance the count with Keough, who got the nod after their first meeting in the Broadway sports palace before a packed audience.

Concerning the Schenectady slugger, who was floored for the count of nine in the first round, his handler Chick Iovine said, "Tony was ruffled. It was a new experience for him to be knocked off his feet. It'll be a different story tonight."

Keough counts on making it two in a row, and will have his dad, Johnny Keough, proprietor of a Cleveland gymnasium, in his corner.

An advance sale of tickets indicates a full house for the stellar match, which is supported by a list of scraps that promise plenty of action.

The complete card:

- Main Bout
Jackie Keough, Cleveland welterweight vs. Tony Barone, Schenectady.
- Semi-Final
Andy Anderson, Ticonderoga welterweight vs. Eddie Morton, Albany.
- Five Rounders
Barney Emberson, Kingston vs. Johnny Howard, Cleveland bantamweight.
Sammy Spadaro, Albany flyweight vs. Nat Brooks, Cleveland.
- Three-Round Prelims
Frankie Buncie, 130, Kingston vs. Johnny Morton, Albany.
Tommy Davis, 150, Kingston vs. Joe Thompson, Schenectady.

Baseball's Future Viewed by Johnson

Washington, Dec. 26 (AP)—Senator Ed C. Johnson of Colorado today marked up a price which he says baseball can—and must—pay to keep a clean slate.

The price is: Eternal vigilance and determination.

Johnson, who has taken the presidency of the newly formed Western League, told a reporter that in his league "no mercy will be shown players who may traffic with gamblers."

Johnson said he favors a proposal that baseball players be given exactly two hours in which to report any infractions of the anti-gambling code which may come to their knowledge.

Pollet Is Awarded Pitching Honors in National League

New York, Dec. 26 (AP)—Handsome Howie Pollet, trim left-hander of the World Champion St. Louis Cardinals, has for the second time in his comparatively brief career won the distinction of most effective hurler in the National League.

The 25-year-old southpaw from Houston by way of New Orleans leads in the earned run averages with a mark of 2.10, followed by the Braves' Johnny Sain with 2.21, figures just released for the 1946 season.

In addition, Pollet also leads in total innings pitched, 266, and won the most games, 21. First southpaw to win 20 National League games since Cliff Melton and Carl Hubbell of the Giants in 1937, Pollet was one of only two 20-game winners in the league.

Pollet paced the circuit with a 1.75 mark in 1943 although he played only half the season before entering the Army Air Force. Returning last spring, he started most of the Red Birds' crucial games in their uphill drive to the pennant.

Strains Back Muscle

Manager Eddie Dyer's No. 1 man after Max Lanier left for Mexico, Pollet strained a back muscle in mid-September and never regained full effectiveness. He beat Brooklyn in the first playoff game for the pennant, however, and worked a brilliant but brief World Series against the Boston Red Sox.

Another Cardinal, little right-hander Murrey Dickson, compiled the best winning percentage with 15 victories against six defeats for 714. Ewell Blackwell, Cincinnati's sensational yearling, tossed the most shutouts, six.

The Brooklyn Dodgers' Ed Head, turned in the only no-hitter, an early-season whitewash job on the Braves. Sain hurled the most complete games, 24. Johnny Schmitz of the Chicago Cubs struck out the most batsmen, 135, while rookie Monte Kennedy of the Giants allowed the most bases on balls, 116.

The Cardinals also captured the team hurling laurels, compiling a 3.01 earned run average. The Dodgers show the second best figure with 3.05 and the Reds placed third with 3.07.

The Dodgers, using eight men on the mound in their night game with the Phillies September 25, established a National League record for most pitchers in a game and tied the Major League mark. The Dodgers and the Braves had equalled the former N. L. record earlier in the season.

Arkansas Porkers Can't See Coach's Idolatry for Laps

All They Do, They Say, Is Run and Then Run Some More; Await Bowl Game

Waco, Tex., Dec. 26 (AP)—Playing in the Cotton Bowl game at Dallas against Louisiana State New Year's Day will be a relief to members of the University of Arkansas squad.

It will mean the end of those endless laps—the running that hard-working John Barnhill requires of his men in football. A statistician from the University has figured it out: The Razorbacks have run 31,000 100-yard laps, which is 1,761 miles and then some since last March 18 when spring training started. All the cross-country men in the Southwest Conference combined haven't run that much.

Barnhill told the Porkers before the grid practice began: "Boys, you will miss me all season long for the laps I will exact from you, but when it is all over, you will thank me."

The Razorbacks haven't gotten around to thinking Barnhill yet. They arrived here today and faced a lot of laps in practice sessions leading up to their departure December 31 for Dallas and the bowl game.

Even next Sunday you can expect the gridders from Fayetteville to be doing some running. Barnhill requires three laps on Sunday afternoon without the coaches being present. It's just an honor system and the boys grudgingly do it.

But the running already has paid off. Arkansas, voted as one of the toughest teams in the country, always is best in the stretch. If you don't beat the Porkers in the first half, you might as well go home. It is one of the most superbly conditioned teams the Southwest Conference ever saw. That's why it tied for the championship to get the Cotton Bowl bid.

Playing Louisiana State in the Cotton Bowl is going to be a picnic compared to what the boys have gone through with in training.

High Falls Plays Wallkill Saturday In Basketball Tilt

The High Falls Firemen will try to make it three in a row Saturday night when they tackle the strong Wallkill Legion basketball team. The main tilt is slated for 9 o'clock with a preliminary between the two junior teams going on at 7:30 o'clock.

Carlton Beach, manager of the High Falls quintet, expects the biggest test of the year for his cagers in this game. "Wallkill has a strong aggregation," Beach opined today, and we'll have to be at our best to come through with a win."

Celtics Win First Game

Troy, N. Y., Dec. 26 (AP)—The Troy Celtics of the American Professional Basketball League have won their first game under their new coach. The Celtics were guided by Davey Banks, former coach of the Chicago Gears of the National League, when they defeated Trenton, 65-51, last night. Banks replaced Sam Winograd, released a week ago. Banks coached the Original Celtics from 1926 to 1942.

Barbara Wilkins Is Tops

Better Bowling

IMPROPER GRIP: To all appearances the lady in the illustration has excellent form. Her shoulders are squared away, so that her stride (run) should be straight to the foul line for an accurate delivery of the ball. Her arms are close to her hips as she holds the ball chest high. In her erect stance she seems to be perfectly relaxed.

Actually, though, there are two things wrong that make work of handling the ball. Both mistakes can easily be corrected with one little change in the position of the LEFT hand.

First, the left hand is held on the OUTSIDE of the ball, instead of underneath—in the PALM. Second, the weight of the ball is taken up entirely by the RIGHT hand. That puts unnecessary pressure and wear on the right hand by forcing a tight grip instead of one that is loose and relaxed. And a tight grip always invites blisters.

If repeated often enough, the blisters are sure to show. More important, though, is the fact that the right hand in this case must take over the entire work of pushing the ball away from the body in timing with the first step with the right foot (four step delivery).

The simple change is this: Hold the ball in the palm of the left hand, so that the push-away action is down with the left hand alone. Thus the right hand merely FOLLOWS, and doesn't go to work, or take up any weight of the ball, until it drops downward into a comfortable, grooved backswing. (Copyright 1946 by John F. Dille Co.)

Rose Bowl Teams Get Ready for Big Game January 1

Pasadena, Calif., Dec. 26 (AP)—Their one-day holiday past, the Illinois and U.C.L.A. football teams returned today to the grim business of preparing for their Rose Bowl engagement, one that may be decided by the field generalship and passing of the rival quarterbacks.

The Illini has its Perry Moss, a sturdy, broad shouldered blond lad of 20, who weighs about 174 pounds and stands 5 feet 10; the Bruins have Ernie Case, All-Coast quarterback, who is 26, married, a father, a war veteran of combat, and physically about the same size as Moss.

From all accounts, the two are equal in coldness under fire, and leadership.

Backing them up are two pretty fair quarterbacks in Benny Feig of the Bruins and Tom Stewart of Illinois.

Classical High Wins

Miami, Fla., Dec. 26 (AP)—Classical High School of Lynn, Mass., and Granby High of Norfolk, Va., prepared to return home today following their North-South football game in the Orange Bowl stadium here last night, which Classical won, 21-14. A crowd of 18,139 turned out for the Mahi Shrine Temple's benefit game and saw the powerful New England eleven hand Granby its first defeat after 32 consecutive victories. It was Classical's 11th victory and one tie in 12 games.

Schroeder, Kramer Give U. S. Bright Outlook for Cup

Smashing Upset Scored Over Bromwich, While Kramer Has Little Difficulty

Melbourne, Dec. 26 (AP)—Ted Schroeder's smashing upset victory over John Bromwich and Jack Kramer's easy triumph over Dinny Pails in the opening matches of Davis cup play today virtually extinguished Australia's hopes of retaining the international tennis trophy.

The two Americans, trying to bring back the symbol of world tennis supremacy which has been held down under since 1939, team up tomorrow to tangle with Bromwich and Adrian Quist in a doubles match which could—and should—clinch the cup for the United States.

It was Schroeder's genuinely great triumph over the two-hand swinging Bromwich in the first match of the series which set the tone for Australian gloom. About the only comfort the Aussies could find was in the memory of 1939, when they won the cup after losing the first two singles encounters.

Seldom in the history of tennis has a player of any country given a greater demonstration of gameness and sheer determination than did Schroeder in turning back Bromwich, 3-6, 6-1, 6-2, 6-3. Kramer beat Pails in straight sets, 6-2, 6-2, 9-7, hardly bothering to leave the baseline in accomplishing the win.

Never for an instant in the long grueling struggle did Schroeder relax the pressure. If he had, it probably would have been fatal, for Bromwich always was waiting and ready to pounce if given an opportunity.

Little Extra Something

When the Aussie raced through six straight games in the fourth set, it appeared he might have taken Schroeder's measure, but the former U. S. Navy flier, visibly weary from the strain of his tremendous effort, had that little extra something which enabled him to come through in the deciding set.

The big crowd in Kooyong Stadium gave Schroeder a tremendous five-minute ovation after he won the last winning placement past Bromwich. And that placement was symbolic of the match. Schroeder scored 52 placements in the match, to only 27 for Bromwich, and blasted many of them when he needed them most.

Had Far Easier Time

Kramer, on the other hand, had a far easier time with Pails, hitting terrific drives to the corners. He discovered he could beat Pails without going to the net or exerting himself overmuch. When Pails tried to attack Kramer fired clean placements past him.

Kramer, like Schroeder, began applying heavy pressure from the outset, but he did not rush the net as consistently as did Schroeder. Pails produced a final cannonball service and scored repeated aces in the first set, but he never looked a winner and before the end Kramer was scoring clean winners from the baseline.

Schroeder was extremely unsteady in the first set, making errors on the simplest shots and enabling Bromwich to win handily. In the second set he hit a brilliant streak and blasted Bromwich off the court in only 22 minutes. In the second game of the set he scored five straight placements to break Bromwich's service after being down 40-0.

The grass was wet and slippery and after he fell in the second game team Captain Walter Pate requested that he be permitted to wear spikes, but without success.

Red Powers Leads With 16 Markers; Brooklyn Coming

Big New Year's Night Game With Loop Leaders Is Slated for Municipal Auditorium Court

The Kingston Chiefs brought American Professional League basketball back to the municipal auditorium with a loud thump Christmas night when they came from behind in Frank Merriwell style to win a thrilling 44 to 42 victory over the Paterson Crescents.

Gotham Next Week
The Brooklyn Gothams, currently leading the A.P.B.L. with 12 victories and only three losses, will be the next big league attraction at the auditorium next Wednesday, New Year's night. The Gothams will show three top L.I.U. stars in Sol Cohen, presently leading the league in scoring, Fredo Frey and Sol Kopitko, and Les Walsh, former N.Y.U. basketball.

In last night's prelude the Kingston Collegians scored a 31 to 30 victory over the Crescents. It was a close game all the way through with the Collegians taking a slim lead near the final bell. George "Zeke" Zelle, former high school star, scored 13 points for the losers. Doug Mathers pumped in nine for the winners.

Lockheed Wins Game
Trailing for exactly 44 minutes of the game, the Kingston Chiefs finally overcame the Crescents with just four minutes left on the clock when Art Lockheed, former St. Francis College star, fired a set shot in from mid-court to give the Chiefs a 42 to 41 margin. Lockheed came right back and dumped in another deuce with a roller to make it 44-41. With less than a minute to go, "Brownie" Carroll, former Fordham star, registered a foul for Paterson to wind up the scoring.

Powers Scores 16

Martie "Red" Powers, in his first year of pro ball, gave Kingston fans a new player to cheer about last night. The redhead wound up the night with 16 points to his credit but the remarkable thing about the total was his 10 foul conversions. He tossed in three fields. Art Lockheed tossed in nine. George Pastuchuk, ex-St. John player, was high for the Crescents with 10.

Unable to get going with their layups and set shots, the Chiefs lagged on the short end of a 15 to 9 count in the first period. Powers got in for a series of foul shots to keep Kingston from going scoreless.

With Frank Mangiapane, formerly of N.Y.U. stealing the show in the second canto, the Crescents continued to hold the edge and rolled up a five point lead at the half 22-17.

Coach Rudy Cooney's local basketballers finally opened up in the third quarter and nearly swiped the lead from the Skeeters when Joe Dinkwood broke through and hooked in a layup to make the score 22-19. Jerry Bussell and Powers fired in fouls to make it 22-21. The Crescents came right back though when Carroll showed in his first game looped in a one-handed shot. Paterson held on to the lead, however, and led at the third period, 32-30.

After Pastuchuk dumped in a field, Powers tallied a foul and Nochinson popped one in from the side to give Paterson a 36-31 lead early in the final stanza. Breaking fast with Powers and Dinkwood playing a stellar role in ball-swinging, the Chiefs bounced right back and sliced Paterson's lead to 36-35 when Powers got in two fouls and Al Benson popped one in from in front.

With five minutes left, Ben Auerbach gave Paterson a 40-37 margin when he dribbled in and laid one in from the corner but Powers came right back with a popper to make it 40-39. After Willie Goebels scored a foul shot, Art Lockheed knotted the count.

The Evergreen Inn keepers have won first place honors in the initial half of the Central Rec League just completed. The Evergreens finished with a record of 26 wins and 16 defeats. The Hotel Ulsters, finishing in second, had 24-18 as did the Jones Dairy squad with 24-18.

The rest of the loop showed Smith Avenue Storage 22-20, Worris 21-21, Slower-Jansen, Schline 21-21, Chez Emile 16-26 and Steins 14-28.

Jim Altamore won the league's individual high single score with his 266 while Ross Ellis posted the top triple with 650. Evergreens won the team high single with handicap with 2825.

The World Today

By GLENN HARRIS

(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

Of all the western powers which perforce are relaxing the ties that hold their pre-war empires together, France just now is finding the process most painful. In the bloody fighting that surges over broad areas of Indochina, she is reaping the harvest of six decades of not very enlightened or generous colonial rule and nearly six years of tragic eclipse after Hitler's 1940 triumph in the west.

It is a strange spectacle presented today in southern and eastern Asia. Nations which rang as victors in the greatest of all wars, instead of consolidating their spoils, are divesting themselves of some of the richest colonial possessions. This process is accompanied by expressions of desire to spread the light of freedom and self-government throughout the world. In some cases, at least, skepticism is pardonable. The held fact is that in the fight for survival against the predatory axis powers some of the ultimate victors paid so dearly in blood, treasure and prestige that they no longer have the strength to keep faraway peoples in the subjection of pre-war times.

So the Netherlands are acquiescing in formation of the Indonesian republic. Britain is proceeding along the path that Winston Churchill describes as the "decline and fall of the British Empire"—seeking means of letting India go, drafting the plans for an independent Burma, offering increased measure of self-government to the peoples of strategic Malaya. The United States has freed the Philippines, although it should be noted that this was in keeping with pre-war pledges and not the result of loss of power to retain the islands.

France Lost "Face" France, probably more than any other European power, lost "face" in Asia as the result of her tragic misfortunes between 1939 and 1945. Struck down by a European power on battlefields thousands of miles away, she had to submit for four years to the domination of her prize Asiatic colony by an Asiatic conqueror, Japan. Her role in Indochina was more humiliating than that of the British in Burma, for example, or the Dutch in Java, for they, at least, were able to give battle before yielding to the Japanese.

The major result was that when the Japanese tide receded in 1945 it left behind in Indo-China a vigorous nationalism that made it certain that French rule never could be reestablished on the old basis. The Annamese, who form the bulk of the population—totaling some 19,000,000—of the three most important sections of Indo-China, Tonking, Annam and Cochinchina, turned from resistance to the Japanese to resistance to the returning armies of Imperial France. So strong was this resistance that France was impelled to come to terms with it and strike a bargain. In the agreement of March 8, 1946, that recognized "the Viet-Nam republic as a free state having its government, its parliament, its army and its finances forming part of the Indo-Chinese Federation and the French Union."

Rule Is Established

Viet-Nam was able to establish its rule over the northern and eastern provinces, Tonking and Annam. As far as internal affairs are concerned those areas are under Annamese, or Viet-Namese, rule. But it was hardly to be expected that Annamese nationalism would be satisfied with such a compromise; now it wants control of its foreign affairs as well and incorporation of Cochinchina, richest of the provinces, in Viet Nam. The French have agreed to leave the latter question to a referendum of the people of Cochinchina.

In grappling with this crisis France has been handicapped by absence of a strong government at home. The fourth republic has just come into being after long months of indecision and political forces. Leon Blum, the aged Socialist premier, pledges continued recognition of Viet-Nam independence but warns that things in Indo-China may get worse before they are better. Blum's mandate runs only a few weeks. In the circumstances France's chances of retaining much of her Asiatic empire are not bright.

Williams Chosen Mendelssohn Conductor

Robert Williams, well-known choirmaster and organist at St. John's Episcopal Church, has been chosen conductor of Mendelssohn Club for the coming season. He was selected at a meeting of the club Sunday to replace Clifford Richter, who conducted the club last year.

Mr. Williams in addition to his work at St. John's Church, is director of music in the Newburgh Public Schools and conducts the Amphion Glee Club of Newburgh. The first regular meeting of Mendelssohn Club will be Friday evening, January 3, 7:45 o'clock, at the Governor Clinton Hotel, when plans for the season will be made. At that time the definite rehearsal night will be chosen.

Adamson Says U. S. Strike May Cause Revolution Move

has found that "numerous representatives of foreign nations who are attached to the United Nations have been attending meetings sponsored by the Communist fronts in the United States and addressing the audiences upon matters affecting the United Nations."

"However, in every instance, these United Nations representatives are presenting one sided opinions directed in favor of the Russian foreign policy and the nation's which they themselves represent."

Adamson recommended that the State Department formally protest against such activities. Excerpts from the report include these observations by the attorney-investigator for the committee:

"Many persons accepted for employment in the reorganized legislative reference department of the Library of Congress 'have had extensive associations with agencies or societies who have shown inclination to change the economy, if not the constitution, of the United States."

"The committee feels that a careful examination of the facts justifies the assertion that the Communist Party of the United States is a foreign inspired conspiracy masked as a political party. x x x the Communists realize that the Communist plan of creating unemployment in the United States is the only medium through which they can possibly gain control of the United States through a victory of the ballot box."

Other methods that may be used include "a general strike in the United States through Communist controlled labor unions which will ultimately result in a revolution," or "industrial sabotage in the form of strikes x x x during a period of war between the United States and Soviet Russia."

Adamson's report came to light as Rep. Rankin (D-Miss.) told reporters that one of the first chores of the Un-American Activities Committee in the new Congress will be to inquire into purported subversive influence in some of this country's leading educational institutions.

The main objective, Rankin said, will be to drive out "those pink professors who are now being subsidized from questionable sources."

Claim Cigarettes Are Damaging to German Economy

Berlin, Dec. 26 (AP)—The U. S. Army and Military Government were considering today a recommendation to prohibit the private importation of American cigarettes into Germany by occupation personnel, as a drastic measure to take the country off its black market "cigarette standard."

The recommendation was contained in a report made to Lt. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, deputy American military governor, by a special investigating committee. It said the sale and barter of cigarettes at inflated values by Americans was damaging the German economy.

The report recommended that the embargo on importation of cigarettes be effected through a European theatre directive banning them from army post office channels. It suggested that if this was done the weekly cigarette ration at army post exchanges, which also supply civilians, be increased. The current allowance is 200 cigarettes per week per soldier.

Presumably a ban on imports would include packages sent by private individuals in America to addressees here, as well as shipments from commercial firms.

Cigarettes, sold in the German black market at 1,200 marks (120 at the military rate of exchange) and up per carton of 200. By bartering cigarettes some American families have obtained enough articles to furnish their houses.

Playhouse Is Burned

Kiamacha Lake, N. Y., Dec. 26 (AP)—Fire of undetermined origin today destroyed the Playhouse of the Concord Hotel, causing damage estimated by fire department officials at $40,000. The fire necessitated the evacuation of approximately 100 guests living in a building near the playhouse. None of the hotel's 900 guests was injured.

Injured in Fall

Frances O'Brien of 11 Spruce street was taken to the Kingston Hospital in the police radio car about 3 o'clock Wednesday morning, following injury by a fall on the sidewalk, according to police department report. She was treated by Dr. Anthony Tocco of the hospital staff for a cut on the head, but was able to return to her home last night.

Elmira Residents Give House to Sick Woman

Elmira, N. Y., Dec. 26 (AP)—The holiday well-wishers were gone and today Mrs. Iris Stoum and her three little tow-headed sons were alone in the four-room bungalow that was their Christmas present from anonymous residents of Elmira. The house—completed Christmas Eve—is furnished and equipped with appliances built low or designed to that the 23-year-old mother can operate them from her wheel chair. She is paralyzed from the waist down.

Russians Dispatch Whalers to South Pole, Press Reports

Moscow, Dec. 26 (AP)—A Russian whaling flotilla consisting of 10 ships was reported en route to the Antarctic today under the leadership of the Soviet Explorer Voronin.

Departure of the expedition was announced yesterday by the Russian press. The flotilla was said to include nine whalers and a large supply ship.

Russia some time ago announced her intention of sending an expedition to the Antarctic, which currently is the objective of an unprecedented number of scientific and whaling undertakings. It was not immediately clear, however, whether this announcement was related to the flotilla which departed yesterday.

A worldwide shortage of fats and oils has spurred an international race for whale oil, while scientific interest in the Antarctic has been whetted by belief that uranium—raw material of the atomic bomb—may be found in the polar wastes.

The largest polar expedition in history already has been sent into the Antarctic by the United States. Britain is reported to have had an expedition there for the past two years. Australia and Chile have announced plans for expeditions of their own and several other nations have expressed interest in south polar explorations.

1183 X-rays Are Taken in October; Reports Are Ready

It was reported at the headquarters of the Ulster County Tuberculosis and Health Association today that the 1183 X-rays taken during the October survey in Ulster county have now been read and reports mailed out from the office at 74 John street.

Groups X-rayed at this time included children and adults at Saugerties, Walkkill and Marlborough High Schools as well as individuals of Walkkill and 100 from the community of Marlborough.

In the community survey held in the town of Shandaken, 650 persons were X-rayed. In reading the X-rays, Dr. F. W. Holcomb reports one person found with heart on the wrong side, the right side. This is a very rare condition and is found in one person in many thousands of X-rays read. One thousand, forty-three persons were found to be negative to tuberculosis. Findings showing abnormal chest conditions of the heart, lungs, or blood vessels appeared in 140 cases. These cases have been referred by the tuberculosis association to the family physician for further medical study.

Christmas Seals funds financed this entire program.

Housing to Get Test Under Plan

were removed, these items appeared in abundance.

Administration officials are putting their chief hope for a solution of the housing shortage on construction of many new apartment houses. They believe this will solve not only the immediate problem of most low and medium-income veterans but will have an indirect benefit for those who want to buy or rent individual houses.

They concede that Wyatt had advocated the same thing and had made this one of his cardinal points for 1947 in a report to President Truman which has never been made public.

But the essential difference between Wyatt's program and the new one boils down to fewer controls over industry. It may be a year or two before the nation will be able to judge who was right.

Southern U. Wins

Dallas, Tex., Dec. 26 (AP)—Operating from a T-formation that had speed, precision and power, Southern University of Baton Rouge, La., reeled off 10 touchdowns yesterday afternoon to whip favored Tuskegee Institute of Alabama, 64-7, in the first Yam Bowl football game. Three other Southern touchdowns were called back because of penalties. Some 5,000 fans saw the game.

Three Airliners Crash in Fog Near Shanghai Area

85 Persons Are Killed or Injured; Other Transport Is Missing

Shanghai, Dec. 26 (AP)—Three Chinese airliners, loaded with more than 100 persons anticipating gay Christmas parties here, crashed up in the fog-blanketed Shanghai area last night, killing or injuring 85 persons. One American pilot was killed and another injured.

A fourth transport was missing and feared lost with at least 10 persons aboard.

Yesterday was the blackest in China's civilian aviation history.

The American owned Shanghai Evening Post & Mercury reported 62 passengers and crewmen were killed and 19 were injured, some so critically they may not survive.

2 American Pilots

A Chinese woman was killed and her three children were injured when one of the transports crashed into her farm home near Woonan.

The Post & Mercury said two of the victims were Americans—Capt. J. M. Greenwood, who was killed, and R. B. Preus, injured seriously. Their home addresses were not given.

Greenwood and Preus were piloting two of the crashed planes, both owned by the Chinese National Aviation Corp., the country's leading airline. It employs many Americans as pilots. The third plane was owned by the Central Air Transport Corp., also a Chinese company.

Bound for Yule Parties

All three of the crashed planes were from Chungking, loaded with passengers planning a Christmas night in Shanghai.

Twelve planes from various Chinese cities arrived over Shanghai late yesterday afternoon and last night but the thick fog prevented their landing. Eight turned back. The three that crashed had circled until their gasoline tanks were virtually empty, then were forced to try to make a landing.

The case of Frank H. Rockwell of Granite court, third degree assault preferred by his wife, was adjourned to December 30. He was arrested Wednesday afternoon by the police on a warrant sworn to by Mrs. Rockwell.

Athens Gets Water

By spending an additional $300,000, Athens, Greece, was able to assure continuance of its present emergency water ration of three hours' daily service per household. Souli Springs, nine miles away, were linked with the Marathon Dam reservoir, main source for Athens. Eventually, a permanent pipe line will carry water 108 miles from Mount Paros to the reservoir. Drought, lack of maintenance and wastage under German occupation had drastically reduced the city's water supply, bringing about strict rationing.

Chinese Guerrillas Force Policy Change

Peiping, Dec. 26 (AP)—Chinese Communist guerrillas, in a surprise move, captured a village only seven miles north of Peiping today and provoked the government into an about-face in its policy.

The Communists' unexpected attack from the north elicited a statement from 11th War Zone Headquarters that national troops would begin a "country purge" to crush guerrillas threatening the Peiping-Tientsin railroad.

Previously, government military leaders persistently maintained the guerrilla attacks were not serious and dismissed them as nuisance tactics.

Americans Spent 127 Billions; 21 Billions Over '45

Washington, Dec. 26 (AP)—Americans spent a record $127,000,000,000 for goods and services this year, or an average of more than $900 for every man, woman and child in the country.

The Commerce Department's Office of Business Economics which came up with this estimate today said the total is $21,000,000,000 over last year's previous record.

Thus 1946 shoppers have been spending around $1.20 for every $1 they spent last year and $1.70 for every $1 spent during the peak pre-war year of 1941.

Both higher prices—the department figured them up 10 per cent over 1945 and more than 40 per cent above 1941—and a bigger volume of actual sales played parts in building the new record, the department said.

Spending on non-durable goods—food, clothing, tobacco, gasoline and the like—mounted to $77,000,000,000 in 1946, or more than $12,000,000,000 above the 1945 total.

The outlay for durable goods—furniture, household appliances, automobiles, jewelry and the like—was estimated at $14,000,000,000, 80 per cent up from a year ago and 50 per cent more than in 1941. Spending on durable goods would have gone $4,000,000,000 higher if automobiles had been turned out in quantity, the department estimated.

3 Pennsylvania Villages Are Now Fit to Dwell In Force, Pa., Dec. 26 (AP)—Year's end finds three northwestern Pennsylvania villages, whose coal-mining inhabitants struck five months in 1945 against what they called "intolerable" sanitary conditions, well on the way to becoming healthful, independent communities.

The towns are Force, Byrnedale and Hollywood, which lie along beautiful Bennett's Valley.

The strike of the nearly 450 miners against a 40-year-old receivership took them straight into Federal court where a judge listened sympathetically to their stories of sewage flowing through the streets and babies drinking formulas mixed with contaminated water.

Today those miners are all back at work and are rapidly increasing production for their post-strike employer, the New Shawmut Mining Co., headed by Attorney Charles Denby and W. J. Stiteler of Pittsburgh and John A. Robertshaw of Greensburg.

Among Accomplishments Here are some of the things that have been accomplished since the strike ended:

The miners have bought the houses they live in, paying an average of $375 for the structures, some of them 50 years old.

Repairs and additions are being made to the houses, despite the scarcity of building materials, houses are being painted that never saw paint before.

All drinking water in the contaminated areas is now chlorinated and safe. Force and Hollywood have drilled 1,500-foot-deep

Beer Prices Studied Manufacture and sale of alcoholic liquor is a business having dangerous possibilities affecting the public welfare. New Zealand's Licensing Commission decided in Auckland. These must be limited and controlled under a system enabling beer to be sold at a reasonable price, "meeting the demand but not stimulating it."

China Conscripts Men Chinese youths are expected to serve several years in the army or militia. Shanghai reports. The new conscription law's main points are: All men between 18 and 45 are liable to conscription, with the exception of those with physical deformities and incur-
